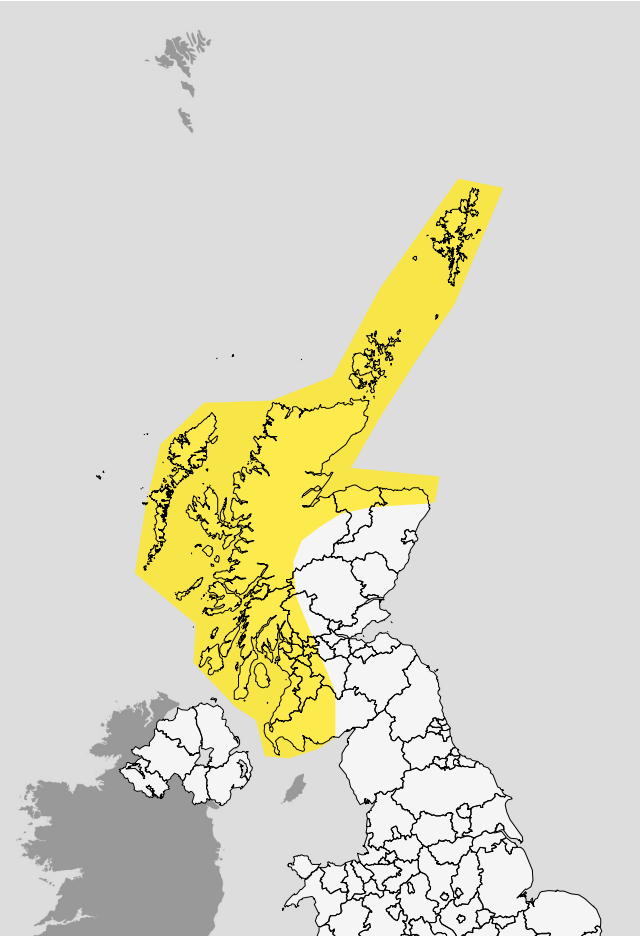
Yellow warning
Snow & Ice

Between
16:00 Sun 24 Jan 2021 and
11:00 Mon 25 Jan 2021



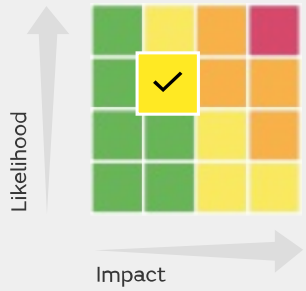
Ice may cause travel disruption on Sunday night and Monday morning.

What to expect

- Some injuries from slips and falls on icy surfaces
- Probably some icy patches on some untreated roads, pavements and cycle paths
- Some roads and railways likely to be affected with longer journey times by road, bus and train services

Further details

Wintry showers across western Scotland and the Northern Isles will turn increasingly to rain at low levels during the early hours of Monday allowing icy patches to form. On hills and mountains, showers will remain as snow. A few centimetres of snow are possible on hills above 200 metres, and perhaps over the Shetland mainland for a time this evening. Northern Grampian will be dry for most of the night but a few showers are likely here late in the night.



Medium likelihood of low impacts
